

Picture-in-Picture

You will always have the option in your video deposition to request separate video captures: one capture of the exhibits being presented and one of the witness - so you can take advantage of picture-in-picture playback capabilities.

Picture-in-Picture technology provides an effective way of capturing both the witnesses' testimony and their interaction with the exhibit.

The value of picture-in-picture technology is indisputable in terms of capturing the most compelling evidence, and preserving the narrative of the deposition. For trial playback, allow the judge or jury to engage with critical visual information - as 93% of communication in non-verbal! It could make all the difference in the story you tell, and the outcome of your case.
